Samuel Hallett was born in Canisteo, New York. In 1854 he built his home “The Aisle of Pines” in Wayne, New York. He was a railroad developer and banker. In 1864 he was shot to death in the street outside his hotel in Wyandotte, Kansas.